LETTER FROM THE MAYOR

Dear Friends:

Through support of individual neighborhood revitalization efforts, we've helped our communities help themselves. Rather than look to government to provide generic help, we've been able to give citizens the tools and support they need in order to bring about positive change in Chattanooga's communities. One important program which has helped strengthen neighborhoods has been the implementation of Neighborhood Services Department's "Neighborhood Grants Program."

Each of our neighborhoods is different; each has their own challenges and successes. This program focuses on giving those who best know our neighborhoods the resources they need to bring about change—the people who live in that area.

As you'll see in this report, this program has been successful over the past 5 years in assisting neighborhoods and I look forward to seeing the many great dividends it produces over the coming years.

Sincerely,

Bob Corker

Mayor

LETTER FROM THE ADMINISTRATOR

It gives me a great sense of satisfaction to glance back over the last five years and see the giant strides that our city's neighborhoods have taken with the added support of the Neighborhood Services Department's "Neighborhood Grants Program" funds.

Whether it was putting on a neighborhood festival or refurbishing a park pavillion, our neighbors have initiated their own neighborhood revitalization effort, while demonstrating true community spirit in the process. Neighborhood Services is proud to have been there every step of the way.

We look forward to next year's Neighborhood Grant Program with much optimism. The Neighborhood Services Department will strive to positively impact the lives of our neighbors through grants that make a difference—grants that create neighborhoods of choice.

Warmest Regards,

Kenardo Curry

Administrator Neighborhood Services Department

PROGRAM GUIDELINES

Every year, the primary purpose of the Neighborhood Grants Program is to help improve and strengthen Chattanooga's neighborhoods. Through this program, funds have been appropriated to provide support to neighborhood activists who propose specific neighborhood projects that enhance their communities.

Any neighborhood association, civic organization or committee located within the Chattanooga city limits that has been in existence for at least six (6) months prior to the application date is eligible for a neighborhood grant.

Typical projects that are awarded grants fall into the following project categories:

- Economic Development
- Education
- Neighborhood Development
- Crime Prevention/ Homeland Security
- Beautification

For a project to be awarded a grant, it must fulfill the following selection criteria:

- Impact: projects should show a measurable benefit to the community
- Neighborhood Involvement: residents should actively participate in the design, implementation, and evaluation of the grant.
- Capacity: projects should reflect the neighborhood's ability to implement the scope of their project in terms of appropriate staff and budget.
- Partnerships: projects should include the support of organizations within the targeted area.
- Sustainability: Projects should be well structured, presenting a plan for sustainable and long-term growth.

YEAR BY YEAR SUMMARY: 1999

1999 was the inception year of the Neighborhood Grants Program offered by the Neighborhood Services Department (NSD). The NSD proved that it was ahead of its time when leadership decided to combine two different funding sources to broaden the eligibility opportunities for neighborhood organizations. One funding source came from the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG), the other came from the City of Chattanooga's general fund. The vision of offering grassroots assistance to community groups was launched and the Neighborhood Grants Program made its successful debut.

With the approaching new millennium and the growing awareness of the importance of thriving neighborhoods to the success of a city, the Neighborhood Services Department committed more funds to neighborhood grants than ever before. This was accomplished through diversifying the type of grants that were offered into three different packages: general grants that were available to neighborhood associations, faith based grants that were available to faith based organizations, and neighborhood block grants targeted at geographic areas within an organization's boundaries.

September 11th, 2001 left an indelible mark on the hearts of all Americans. After the initial shock our nation took a "business as usual" stance toward the events. The Neighborhood Services Department began to refine the approach used to support our community activists. In 2001 a new funding process was introduced. Any neighborhood wishing to participate would have to offer a 33% match to the requested amount. Neighborhood Services would provide 66% of the total. The result: the match raised the bar for neighborhood commitment to projects, as well as providing added structure and organization to the grant program.

2002 In 2002, the citizens of Chattanooga elected Mayor Bob Corker to office. As a result, the program underwent added changes under his platform cornerstone: revitalizing Chattanooga neighborhoods. To champion his initiative, the Neighborhood Services Department developed five project categories (economic development, education, neighborhood development, crime prevention/homeland security, beautification) requiring applicants to closely adhere to a specific type of project. The added focus allowed for more efficient and effective fund allocation to our neighbors.

Our present grant year was one of the best ever. The Neighborhood Grants Program has undergone quite an evolution. The program today is an organized, professional effort to get resources to our neighborhoods where they need it most. While the application process has become more structured, the mission of the program remains the same as it was five years ago: to offier directed support to our communities at the grassroots level. This was evidenced this year by the addition of a technical workshop offering assistance to our neighbors throughout their application process.
